"To other countries, I may go as a tourist, but to India, I come as a pilgrim."

We do not need a month or a day to feel proud to be Indians. Neither do we need to look far and wide. Every part of the country, every home is a repository of heirlooms and traditions! So, in this august month of our Independence, Hello 6E celebrates the diversity of India and the uniqueness of every Indian abode.

In Offbeat, we bring you hometown diaries from different parts of the country. From Arunachal Pradesh to Ladakh and from Jharkhand to West Bengal, we travel with five proud Indians to their charming cities and uncover hidden gems. In Ace Corner, versatile actor Prosenjit Chatterjee tells us why he loves exploring unknown corners of the country.

From India, we travel to America and cycle across New York. From the Brooklyn Bridge and Central Park to the iconic Times Square, we bring you a fresh perspective of NYC on two wheels.

Turn the pages to Vignette and enjoy a visual delight. From a burning river in Iceland to the beautiful colours of the Canary Islands – take a look at how spectacular the world looks from the sky!

Also, we are turning 17 this month and the celebrations have started. The party is on us!

What can Midcaps offer your portfolio?

Midcaps are mid-sized companies that may offer greater growth potential for investors

- Midcaps are companies that fall between the 101st and 250th companies by market cap.
- Well positioned to benefit from a growing economy.
- Relatively under-researched offering a chance to exploit gaps between market price and intrinsic values.
- Potential to grow into future large caps and generate substantial gains.
- They carry a higher risk than large cap companies.
- Immense long term potential, however they could underperform in the short & medium term.

An easy way to gain exposure to mid-cap companies is through Midcap Mutual Funds.

Mutual Fund companies have professional research and investment teams that can help you identify the right Midcap stocks that are diversified across sectors.

You may also reduce risk by limiting your exposure to midcaps or better still choose the Systematic Investment Plan (SIP) route over a longer period. Midcap Funds are suitable for investors with an investment horizon of 5 years or more.

CULTIVATING WISDOM AT A YOUNG AGE: A PATH TO LIFELONG SUCCESS

In a fast-paced and ever-changing world, wisdom is a timeless virtue with immense value. Although wisdom is often associated with older people, it can be fostered and developed at any age. People who embrace wisdom early in life can make better decisions, build meaningful relationships, and navigate challenges more effectively.

"One should be willing to explore practical steps to nurture wisdom and become wise at a young age. This will set the stage for a fulfilling and prosperous future", says Dr Manimekalai Mohan, the founder of SSVM Group of Institutions, Coimbatore.

What is the first quality a child should cultivate to acquire wisdom?

One of the first steps towards gaining wisdom is adopting a growth mindset. Embrace the belief that intelligence and knowledge can be developed through effort, learning, and experience. View challenges as opportunities for growth, remain open to creative ideas, and see failures as valuable learning experiences. This will encourage continuous self-improvement and expand your perspective.

How should one encourage a child to explore new possibilities, seek wisdom, and gain diverse experiences?

Wisdom requires knowledge acquisition. Encourage your child to read voraciously, explore various subjects, and stay curious about the world around them. Engaging in intellectual conversations, attending seminars, and seeking mentorship from wise individuals helps them gain different perspectives, cultures, and experiences.

Dr. Manimekalai Mohan
Founder, SSVM Group of Institutions, Coimbatore, Tamil Nadu

A child's overall development depends on critical thinking. In what ways can teachers and parents help students in this regard?

Critical thinking is a crucial skill for developing wisdom. Teach your child to question assumptions, evaluate information objectively, and think independently. Engaging in fruitful debates, analysing complex problems, and considering multiple viewpoints before forming opinions should become a habit.

Should parents and teachers often share their own life experiences with children? If so, how will it nurture their well-being?

Wisdom grows through reflection and learning stems from experience. Ask your kid to set aside quality time for introspection, journaling, or meditation to contemplate thoughts, actions, and lessons learned. Help them in identifying patterns, strengths, and areas of improvement. Remind them to celebrate successes, acknowledge mistakes, and extract wisdom from both.

How should one seek guidance from mentors, and will it help young minds to embrace a growth mindset?

Wise mentors offer invaluable guidance on our journey to wisdom. Ensure that your child engages in meaningful conversations, seeks advice, and learns from the experiences of teachers and older people at home. Their incredible knowledge from their life experiences can provide children with practical insights, broaden their perspective, and inspire them to embrace a wise approach to life.

Welcome aboard, dear passengers,

We transcend distance and time to celebrate 17 remarkable years that have shaped IndiGo into the epitome of safety, on-time performance and customer-centricity in the Indian aviation industry. I have been fortunate to witness the airline's growth from its nascent stages to becoming a dominant force in the Indian aviation industry.

As we celebrate 17 years of ruling the skies, it is an opportune moment to reflect on IndiGo's trailblazing journey, marked by remarkable firsts and numerous achievements that have solidified its position as India's leading airline. IndiGo has consistently been at the forefront of innovation and progress, setting new benchmarks in the aviation industry. In 2005, IndiGo made history by placing a massive order of 100 Airbus A320s, signalling our intention to transform air travel in India. In 2015, we became the first airline in the country to induct the Airbus A320 NEO (New Engine Option) into our fleet. The A320 NEO's fuel efficiency and reduced carbon footprint set a new standard for eco-friendly aviation, reflecting our unwavering commitment to sustainability.

In the years that followed, IndiGo continued its journey of firsts with groundbreaking additions to our fleet. The Airbus A321 NEO allowed us to expand our capacity and enhance the flying experience for our passengers. Our pioneering spirit didn't stop there. In 2017, IndiGo ventured deep into the heart of the country with the induction of ATR aircraft - enabling us to connect remote regions and smaller cities.

IndiGo was honoured with the flag of India, a distinction typically reserved for national carriers, during the opening ceremony of the airport at Deogarh under the UDAN scheme and I had the privilege of receiving it myself on behalf of IndiGo from our honourable Prime Minister, Mr. Narendra Modi.

With the last aircraft order, IndiGo is set to build a robust fleet of over 1,000 aircraft, a feat that translates into extensive job opportunities for a large population. IndiGo's growth not only strengthens its presence but also contributes significantly to the aviation industry's workforce.

The foundation of our success lies in our relentless focus on operational excellence. From the very beginning, we realised that being on time was a cornerstone of a great flying experience. IndiGo continues to shine in the global aviation arena, consistently securing the number one position for on-time performance (OTP) among the top 10 airlines in the world for four months this year. IndiGo's focus on punctuality ensures that passengers reach their destinations on schedule.

But our success goes beyond operational efficiency. It is the dedicated team of pilots, cabin crew, engineers, and ground staff who have steered IndiGo's success over the years. Their passion for aviation, unwavering commitment to safety, and warm welcome to every passenger on board have become the essence of our identity. I am also immensely proud to share that IndiGo holds the distinction of employing the maximum number of women pilots in the world.

However, as we celebrate these significant moments, we must also acknowledge the unprecedented challenges faced during the COVID-19 pandemic. Yet, the resilience and commitment of the IndiGo team shone brighter than ever. Amidst various trying times, IndiGo rose to the occasion, showcasing resilience, adaptability, and unwavering commitment to its core values. Notably, Operation Ganga became a shining example of compassion and national duty as IndiGo operated 42 flights, bringing back over 9,200 Indian citizens to their homeland.

This airline has not only been my workplace; it has been a second home, a place where passion and purpose converge. To our passengers, we promise to keep soaring higher, striving to create an even better flying experience with each passing day. Your satisfaction is our ultimate reward. I thank you for being a part of our journey.

Check List

EAT SMART

Kanda bhajji (onion fritters) and misal pav (traditional bread rolls with spicy bean curry) with chutney are local favourites. Don't miss jaggery, Kolhapuri sukka (dry) mutton, akkha masoor (lentil gravy) and tambda rassa (spicy-red mutton curry).

PLAN YOUR HOLIDAY

Adventure lovers can spend a day exploring the scenic Panhala Fort or the Radhanagari Wildlife Sanctuary. Enjoy family time with a fun outing at the serene Rankala Lake or at Amba Ghat, a picturesque mountain pass near Kolhapur.

CULTURE ZONE

Kolhapur is most famous for the eponymous Kolhapuri chappals (traditional handcrafted leather footwear) that have a GI tag. The city is also a hub for unique local jewellery, a special necklace called Kolhapuri saaj and the spicy Kolhapuri masala (spices).

BHUBANESWAR,

Odisha

Prakruti
Mishra

National Award-winning actor (for Odia film
Hello Arsi)

Must-visit:
The Odisha bracketed chhatri is a traditional transition between two stone pillars. The old ones connect temple (past) and the new, hip one.

Why visit: With pleasant weather and deep greenery, Bhubaneswar is like the pearl of a gem necklace. The city, which boasts 16 historic food courts, more than 3,000 years of art history and some of the oldest surviving temples, including the iconic Lingaraj Temple, is a blend of ancient and modern. From traditional handicrafts like wood and stone sculptures, saree-making, patachitra painting and pottery to modern art, head to Seaway Hostel.

Leave Odisha's delicious Machalika and its variety of potato fritters with your feet, then head to a positive street food rally, Chhatrapati - a curated food court.

Must: The scenic hour-long coastal drive to Puri (about 60 km away), home of the revered Jagannath Temple. Make a day trip to the 2nd century Udaygiri and Khandagiri caves with exquisite carvings, just a few kilometres away from the city, or the Chilika Lake for a perfect weekend!

Note: Bhubaneswar hosted the Hockey Men's World Cup for two consecutive seasons - 2018 and 2023.

CHANDANNAGAR, West Bengal

Shramona

Poddar

Travel Influencer
(@mishti.and.meat)

Anil Verma

Must: One of my favourites is the Strand, an ornate riverside promenade, dotted with old French homes and monuments.

Note: Chandannagar is famous for Jagaddhatri (an avatar of Goddess Durga) Puja, held in autumn. During this time, the city decks up with twinkling light décor that is famous all over the state!

With
• French architecture
• Heritage Charyamandir

West Bengal (about an hour away from Kolkata) seems to be caught in a time-warp. Traditional Bengali life meanders past museums, churches and old homesteads with French names!

Why visit: Relics of the long French occupation stand tall - Institut de Chandernagore, also known as Dupleix Palace, which displays cannons used in the Anglo-French wars and antiques, and the French Fort, now a court. The town is also where St. Joseph's Convent, my alma mater, is. Equally popular is Patal Bari, where Nobel laureate Rabindranath Tagore used to stay. The building's underground floor is submerged in the waters of river Ganges and it is said that it was used to secretly transfer freedom fighters before our Independence.

Try ghoti gorom, a popular street food made with heated sev, spices, chopped onions and lemon juice. Do not miss out on the indigenous smoked Bandel cheese!

TIRBIN, Arunachal Pradesh

A mystical land carpeted with lush greenery, rolling hills, fruit orchards, gushing rivers and vibrant local tribes...that's picture-perfect Tirbin, a small and remote village tucked into Arunachal Pradesh's green heart.

Why visit: Tirbin is an unexplored paradise, with crystal-clear waterfalls cascading down velvety hillsides and paddy fields stretching till the horizon. It's much like an untouched version of Bali! Away from the tourist din, Tirbin's beauty is raw and pristine, like a dreamy tropical rainforest bursting with flowers and wildlife. That is not the only hidden gem in Arunachal Pradesh, there are many such destinations offering unseen thrills and adventures.

Must: In and around Tirbin, you can try river rafting, jungle walks and bird-watching. Nearby, Aalo (formerly Along), is known for its fragrant orange orchards, millet and buckwheat plantations.

Try our food, which is cooked in bamboo containers, with a unique flavour and aroma. A typical dish would be free-range chicken and banana leaf cooked in bamboo – it's delicious.

Note: The annual Bascon Festival that takes place around year-end is a must-experience. It showcases the traditions and culture of our tribe (Galo) with colourful dances, cuisine, sample homes, plants and way of life.

TEGAR, Ladakh

Rigzin Kalon
Hotel owner
(Lchang Nang Retreat),
Nubra Valley

Location: On the long stretch between Kargil (Kashmir) and Leh, the Nubra Valley is surrounded by jagged peaks and dizzying depths of the Nubra Valley in Ladakh.

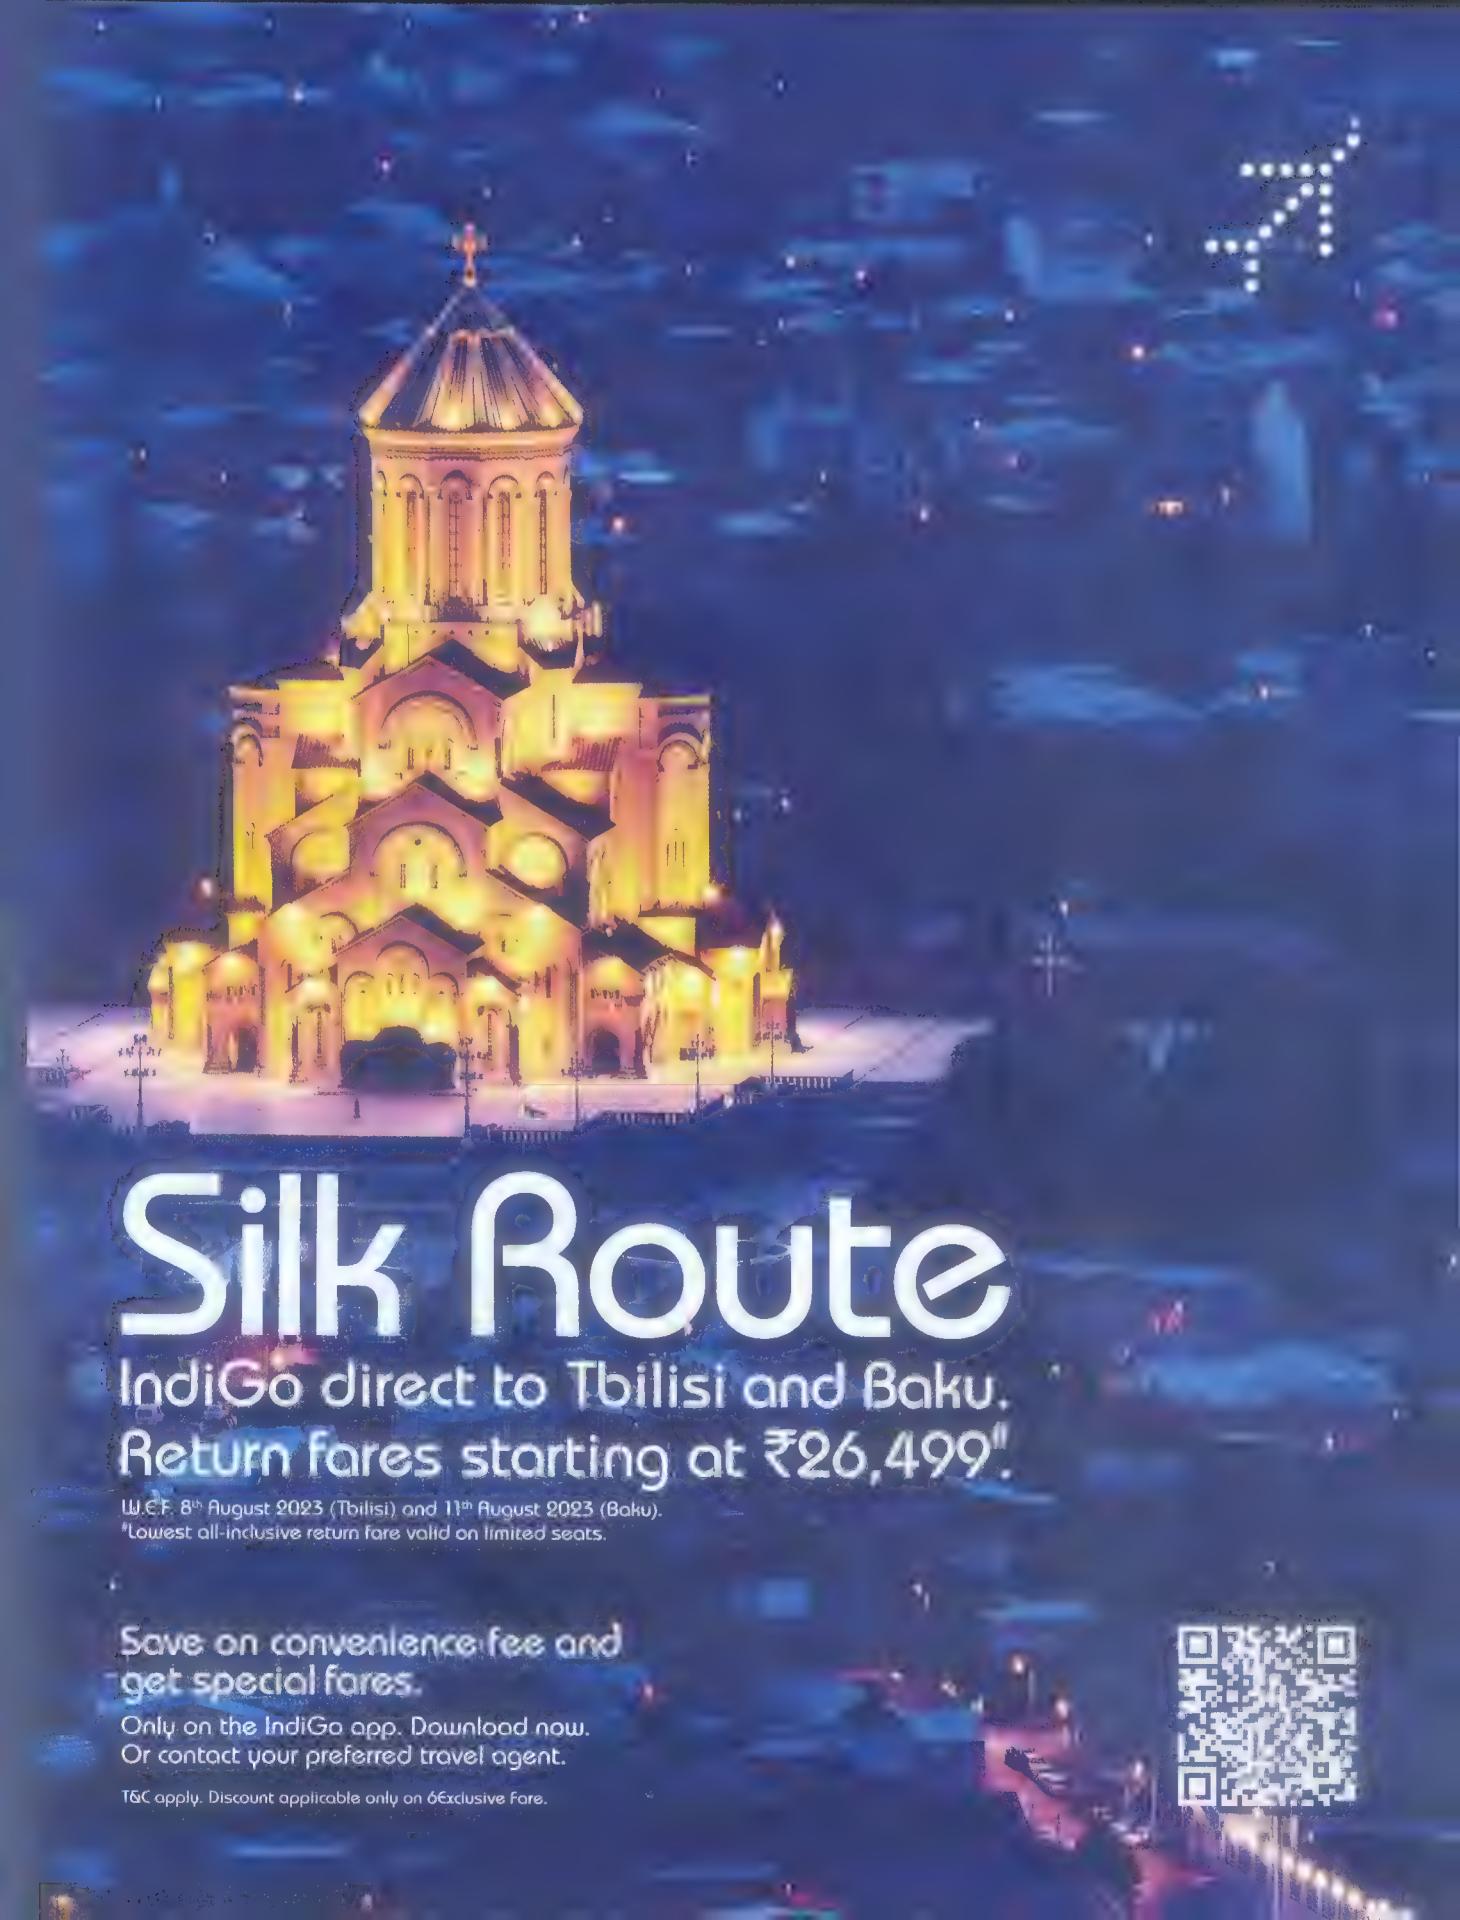

Why visit: Tegar is one of the beaten tracks to be with some of the ancient Silk Route's trade. Nearby there are stops every 50km where the Silk Route was used for the exchange of travellers on the route. In the village, with around 1000 inhabitants, people are kind, and the availability is a mix of old and new. What here you can explore the Nubra Valley, Sonamling Gompa, the Basgo Gompa and Mungo Tsopa, with pie (lamb) and roti. Tegar is the second largest Tibetan Buddhist community in Ladakh.

Must: My favourite spot is the Yarab Tso lake, a hidden and secluded waterbody that is considered holy. Its serene beauty is indescribable!

You can try pork fry with tingmo (local steamed bun), paba (barley bread) with chives and lassi, yak and goat meat, momos and the morel mushroom soup. At breakfast don't skip khambir bread (local sourdough) with butter tea.

Note: Walk along the Silk Route, stopping at places that were associated with the trading path. You can also enjoy star gazing, yoga and mindfulness sessions with the monks at nearby monasteries.

BOKARO,

Jharkhand

A modern industrial town born from an ancient land, Bokaro is a quiet spot of calm. Popularly known as the steel city, in reference to the iconic steel plant here, it's the gateway to Jharkhand's treasures.

Must: Drive towards Patratu Valley (about three hours away), a dreamland of lush forests, stunning views and misty mountains. The drive is as beautiful as the valley! Netua Island, on the other side of Patratu Dam, is breathtakingly beautiful. Nearby are the revered Chinnamastika Mandir and the Baba Baidyanath Dham Temple (in Ramgarh and Deoghar districts, respectively); and the majestic Hundru Falls, located between Ranchi and Bokaro.

As a chef who travels around the world, including with Indian PM Narendra Modi, I love that the food from Jharkhand is robust and flavourful. Our tribal food is very popular and we have hundreds of varieties of saag (leafy vegetables) alone! Fish is a staple and goat is cooked whole, with nothing wasted. In Ranchi (about three hours away), try pattal chicken roast (cooked in sal leaves) at Mandi Eddoa, a tribal restaurant.

Why visit: Well-laid out, Bokaro stretches out to a verdant landscape, which turns into a riot of colours during monsoon. Visit Jawaharlal Nehru Biological Park, one of the largest zoological gardens in the state, and Garga Dam, a popular picnic spot. On the outskirts, explore Luguburu Ghantabari, a pilgrimage site of the Santhal community, surrounded by River Damodar, and small rivers Katail and Sadabahar. Visit the Lalpania waterfall nearby.

Note: Do not forget to carry back some traditional art and craft pieces like the paitkar paintings, small stone sculptures, and bamboo boxes and utensils.

Duel Action

Fasten your seat belts as we take you on a 360-degree ride through two destinations. There's Goa, India, in one corner and Pattaya, Thailand, in another.

PATTAYA

Architecture Gems

Goa is famous for its beaches, churches and vibrant night life. Visit such popular and revered churches as Our Lady of Immaculate Conception Church, Basilica of Bom Jesus, Chapel Of Our Lady Of The Mount and the Se Cathedral. Fort Aguada offers breathtaking views.

The largest wooden building in Thailand, the Sanctuary of Truth is the most magnificent structure of the city. A unique take on classic Thai temple architecture, the temple boasts wood statues and a wood-carved piece that tells the philosophy of life.

Foodie's heaven

Goa's unique cuisine is influenced by various cultures, including Konkani and Portuguese. Must-trys are Goan fish curry, pork vindaloo, shark ambot tik (sour and hot), prawns xeque xeque and chicken xacuti. Do not miss the sweet treats patolea and bebinca, and the famous local liquor feni.

Pad Thai is a local food preparation that is found in almost every nook and corner of Pattaya. It is a simple dish comprising rice noodles, eggs, vegetables, fish and shrimp, and condiments. Delicacies like pla pao (Thai grilled fish), som tam (green papaya salad) and satay (grilled meat) are also popular here.

Shoppers' delight

Shop for clothes, trinkets and crafts at the Anjuna flea market. Visit the Arambol flea market to experience tasty local fare, and buy handmade products, home decor items like hammocks and pretty souvenirs. Pick an indigenous Kunbi saree, which is representative of the state's rich heritage and culture.

The best way to discover Thai culture is to stroll through its local markets. Hop onto a boat and collect traditional Thai souvenirs, including local fabric, rattan furniture, silk and paper umbrellas, and woven bags at the Pattaya Floating Market. Do drop by Pattaya Night Bazaar and Central Pattaya

For Adventure Junkies

Head to Calangute beach for memorable parasailing experiences. You can also try white water rafting on the Mandovi river. Hit the high and low waves with a surfboard at Mandrem Beach. For scuba diving and snorkeling, head to Grandé (Grand) Island. You can also spot dolphins.

Water sports are a must-do for all adventure lovers in Pattaya. From windsurfing and water skiing to snorkeling, the city offers a wide range of adventure activities. Also enjoy bungee jumping, skydiving, go-karting, Muay Thai (Thai boxing) and paintball.

The Streets

It is quite important to take note of the beautiful streets of Goa. While taking a walk around the streets, you will spot a plethora of colourful graffiti, murals and street art, which make for eye-catching photographs!

Pattaya's streets are a kaleidoscope of culture, food and shopping. From handmade artefacts, trinkets and imported items to clothes and local food, explore these lanes and by lanes on foot. An interesting stop can be Thepprasit Road

Recommendation You can visit A. About Alcohol a unique alcohol museum in Candolim, Goa. Drop by the Thailand Ice Cave in Pattaya, which houses sculptures that narrate Thai literature along with various ice formations like a dome building and an ice cave.

It's not everyday you get to pedal across one of the world's richest cultural hubs. Or cycle over an iconic bridge and wave at our planet's most recognisable lady with a torch! If you haven't guessed it yet, this is a reference to a cycling trip through New York. While the city is one of the most walkable in the world, with around 2,000 km of bicycle lanes and routes — many of which have been added in the past decade — it's also quite bike-friendly! Add to it the exhilarating experience of flowing through the veins of one of the world's greatest urban hubs! You can easily rent a bike or join guided tours that journey through the city's rich tapestry of neighbourhoods, parks and cultural hotspots. While you can cycle through almost any part of New York, there are a few biking routes that will offer you a taste of the incredible diversity and beauty of NYC.

Brooklyn Greenway

First up is the Brooklyn Greenway, a route that will take you from Atlantic Avenue to Greenpoint. This scenic urban adventure covers a distance of around 9 km and takes approximately 30 minutes to complete. Begin your trip at the foot of Atlantic Avenue, one of the newest bike paths in the city, and ride through the picturesque Brooklyn Bridge Park that offers stunning views of the East River. Make your way to the historic Brooklyn Navy Yard, follow the dedicated bike lane north, passing the Williamsburg Bridge and stopping by the new Domino Park, ending your tour at WNYC Transmitter Park. A hub of creativity, Brooklyn has much to offer – the Brooklyn Academy of Music, the Music Hall of Williamsburg, Bell House and Brooklyn Bowl. Get a taste of the town at the many food trucks, breweries and restaurants. Don't miss the century-old carousel in Prospect Park!

Bike rental: Brooklyn Bike Tours are inclusive and provide a licensed tour guide, a bike, a helmet, water and even tour photographs to capture those memorable moments.

Central Park Loop

Next comes the Central Park Loop that covers around 10 km and takes approximately 45 to 60 minutes. Enter at Columbus Circle and pedal in a loop through the sprawling oasis of green in the heart of Manhattan at leisure! Wind your way by the Great Lawn, the Delacorte Theater and the majestic Belvedere Castle.

Bike rental: Rent a bike from Bike Rent NYC, the official bike rental company of NYC parks. They offer guided tours and individual rentals – a two-hour guided bike tour, available daily – is the most apt to explore the beauty of Central Park. You can also rent bicycles from one of their many Manhattan locations. Each rental comes with a free helmet, bike lock and a handy NYC bike map.

Hudson River Ride

Then there is the Hudson River Greenway that covers the Battery Park and the George Washington Bridge. This riverside adventure covers a distance of around 18 km and takes approximately an hour. The long but scenic tour starts at the Battery, the southernmost point of Manhattan, and follows the bike path along the Hudson River. Pedal by the One World Trade Center and catch glimpses of the picturesque West Village and the towering Hudson Yards complex. Take a moment to admire the USS Intrepid, an impressive aircraft carrier that served World War II and currently operates as a memorial and museum ship, and the eye-catching VIA 57 WEST building. ## What else

TIMES SQUARE

The hub of the Broadway Theatre District and venue of the world-famous New Year's Eve Ball drop, this is said to be the crossroad of the modern world! While the pedestrian plazas are meant to be explored on foot, there are a few Citi Bike stations close by.

CITY BY NIGHT

Make the most of your evening on a bike tour of NYC's most dazzling lights. Start at the Columbus Circle, pedal past Rockefeller Center, Grand Central Terminal, Times Square, the Empire State Building and other iconic landmarks that light up New York's skyline.

New York has hundreds of miles of bike lanes and one of the largest bike-sharing programmes in North America.

riding right by the river alongside the Upper West Side or heading through the greenery of Riverside Park. If you need a break, halt at the Riverbank State Park (Upper Manhattan). End at Fort Washington Park's Little Red Lighthouse beneath the majestic George Washington Bridge!

Bike rental: Citi Bike has thousands of bicycles available at hundreds of stations in Manhattan, Bronx, Brooklyn and Queens, making renting a bike a breeze. Whether you need a quick ride or want to embark on a day-long adventure, Citi Bike offers daily and annual passes. For just USD 19, you can enjoy unlimited 30-minute rides throughout the day with a one-day pass.

I love being able to explore the city at my own pace, unlocking a bike at one station and returning it at any other station. It's that simple!

CROSS THE FILED

Women captured harvesting grass in a field in Thang Binh, Quang Nam, Vietnam. Winds blowing through the grass create beautiful shapes.

This grass is harvested to be used as raw materials for such handcrafted objects as hats, bags and more.

CLOUD INVERSION

by Jeroen Van Nieuwenhove

"The crater kept spewing out lava in quantities never seen before in the months prior. The huge eruptions stopped and left the crater coated in fresh lava. At the same time fog started engulfing the area which made for this dreamy and surreal photograph," says the photographer about the shot.

MOSAIC ALOFT

by Marco Bottigelli

"The colour variations of the clay roofs seen from above appear like a vibrant mosaic. They are a result of a tax system that encouraged building on top of existing structures, as well as the region's architectural and cultural influences resulting in vibrant and practical outdoor living spaces."

SWIM IN THE STARS

by Krzysztof
Krawczyk

"Under the heavy clouds, thousands of dry leaves glisten like stars from this vantage point, while gentle waves ripple beneath. A bride and groom find themselves in a boat adorned with beautiful flowers, creating a truly romantic scene."

Nishant Menaria

"In 9th grade when we lost Papa, a farmer who had worked all his life to give us a stable life, I thought, 'Life will never be the same again'—Without him, I felt the weight of family's responsibility fall on me.

So I diligently completed my schooling and enrolled in a good college. Socha koi government job kar lunga. Little did I know life was about to change...

During my 2nd year, I happened to tag on a trip along with my cousin and fell in love with the road. Having lived a sheltered life, the adventure of waking up in a new place, and the uncertainty of it, felt exciting. By the end of that trip, I knew I wanted to travel for the rest of my life.

As a student on a tight budget, I started finding ways to travel economically, and began travel vlogging. My family was supportive—they'd excitedly watch my vlogs. It drove me to hustle harder. While focusing on growing my channel, I also took up a job in an IT firm.

Over the years, between hitchhiking and sleeping on stations and park benches to staying in temples and gurudwaras, I explored over 18 states, and 3 countries.

I never minded traveling on a budget. But this year, after a 3-month-long road trip from Darjeeling to Tirupathi Balaji and then to Bhubaneswar, I was tired. I looked for trains—but the last-minute tickets were expensive. So my brother said, 'Why don't you take a flight instead? It's cheaper right now.' That's how I, a guy who vlogs about traveling on a budget, ended up taking a flight to save money—my first ever!

Back at home, I kept narrating my experience to my family for days. I told them of the blue sky and the tiny houses beneath and it was as if they were living my adventure through me, telling me how proud they were. But I told them, 'Abhi toh bahut kuch karna baki hai!' Although I'm still a long way from being a successful travel vlogger and fully supporting my family, I've not stopped dreaming. As I continue to travel and grow my channel, I've started saving up for my family's first flight. I know it might take some time, but I won't stop until it does. Because that's the kind of man Papa has raised, and because I want to tell him, 'Don't worry, I got it from here!'"

Yeh Mera India

Prosenjit Chatterjee

While his fans admire him for the gravitas and earnestness he lends to the roles he takes up, Prosenjit Chatterjee has been giving them additional reasons to cheer as he continuously reinvents himself as an actor, leaving his charisma on a host of productions outside the Bengali film industry. Fresh from the success of Vikramaditya Motwane's retro drama series, Jubilee, where he plays Shrikant Roy - a film studio magnate with a sharp sense to spot stars - the actor is also getting rave reviews for Hansal Mehta and Mrumayee Lagoo Walkul's Netflix crime drama Scoop. In the midst of hectic days, when he sits down with a cup of coffee to talk about travel, you can sense what exactly calms the weary nerves of the artiste.

When superstar Prosenjit is not donning the actor's mantle to deliver a plethora of interesting characters on screen, he likes to enjoy India, his beloved country, through immersive travel experiences.

Words Sharmi Adhikary

Meet the author

Sharmi Adhikary has been a Delhi-based senior lifestyle journalist and columnist for two decades. She has a yen for exploring interesting concepts in fashion, culture and cinema, and loves writing on topics that spark conversations.

City closest to the heart

I have always shared a close bond with Mumbai, not only because my father [veteran actor Biswajit Chatterjee] lives there but also because I have been visiting it since my childhood. Now, I visit Mumbai due to the exhilarating work that I continue to pursue when I am in the city. Be it the work culture, the people, the cool sea breeze, the beaches and pav bhaaji, the weather or the overall go-getter vibe - Mumbai's air is infectious. Yes, one might have issues with the traffic but you just have to tune yourself in a manner that you don't feel restless inside the car while travelling from one part of the city to another. What I do is...I complete a large portion of my written jobs during the commute. That leaves me free to enjoy Mumbai once my work commitments are met with.

The enormity of India is not just about its size. You can actually feel the pulsating vibe of our country.

Mumbai and its beautiful outskirts

The outskirts of Mumbai are beautiful and short getaways are a must if you are in the city. The Western Ghats are breathtaking once you take to the road. There is so much to explore that calms your nerves. I would also like to mention Mumbai's iconic Sun-n-Sand Hotel, where I stay quite frequently. A favourite among many evergreen Bollywood stars, including Dev Anand and Shashi Kapoor, the hotel has featured in numerous films too. What's heartening is how its old world charm has been retained while continuing to floor guests with impeccable service. It's a must-stop whenever I am in the city.

Food favourites

I am a Bengali with a yen for delicious food. While every part of my country offers a veritable range of dishes that one needs a lifetime to savour - delicacies from Lucknow and Hyderabad are close to my heart. I absolutely admire the cuisine and the fare available in these cities. Melt-in-mouth kebabs, aromatic biryanis, and well-balanced and spiced meat preparations are what makes Hyderabad and Lucknow a gourmand's go-to destination.

That memorable trip from childhood

You know how little boys feel, like they have grown up when their mothers don't accompany them to a place? Well, I felt it too! Around 1963-64, I had accompanied my father to Kashmir. He was shooting there for the film Mere Sanam. It was a trip to remember - the people, the place, the food, the excitement. Kashmir has always stupefied me. Nowadays, when I see the valley bustling with events and tourists, it leaves me with a wide smile. Instantly, those fond memories of my yesteryear trip to Kashmir resurfaces and I cherish all those joyful moments all over again.

Odisha and its evolution as a tourist magnet

I have been traveling to Odisha quite often. It is clear that the state has undergone changes. The roads are better and the infrastructure is fabulous. Odisha is full of history, heritage and culture. A visit to Puri's Jagannath Temple is a must for me. The state is also one that takes pride in its arts and crafts - be it those who weave stunning ikat sarees, craft exquisite silver filigree jewellery or make stunning pattachitra art (that has been awarded GI status)!

Favourite places to visit

Kolkata is my birthplace, so it will always be my favourite. But I felt immensely welcomed in Assam, Kerala and Tripura, apart from other cities and states. Kerala is a place I enjoy visiting because of the green cover, food and the calming aura. It relaxes and rejuvenates me. The enormity of India is not just in its size. You can actually feel the pulsating vibe of our country. I visit international destinations quite often but my heart lies within India as there is so much to visit and explore.

Travel as a celebrity

Celebrity travel is evolving. Earlier, we were hounded for autographs. Now, it's selfies. Movement is restricted but we celebrities want to be recognised. Being papped or surrounded by fans can't be an irritant for us. I call this love.

One Place 5 Ways

Discover Lyon, a heritage city in France. A hub of culture and history, explore its great architectural marvels that hark back to the ancient times. Enjoy a fun-filled shopping spree and relish local delicacies.

History

ROMAN CONNECTION

It is said Lyon was founded by the Romans in the 1st century BC as the capital of the Three Gauls. A majestic city, it has played a major role in Europe's political, cultural and economic development.

ARCHITECTURAL LANDMARKS

A UNESCO World Heritage Site, Lyon is known for its historical and architectural landmarks - from the Cathédrale St-Jean-Baptiste to Musée Lumière that pays homage to Louis and Auguste Lumière and their invention, the Cinématographe.

MUSÉE DES BEAUX-ARTS

This gorgeous museum houses one of France's finest collections of sculptures and paintings. Its collections range from ancient Egypt antiquities to Modern art and make the museum one of the most important in Europe.

MUSÉES GADAGNE

This exhibition space includes an excellent local history museum, Musée d'Histoire de Lyon, that chronicles the city's history, and an international puppet museum, Musée des Marionnettes du Monde.

Monuments

PLACE BELLECOUR

The 17th-century Place Bellecour is a public square - one of the largest in Europe. Hop on a 60-m-high Ferris wheel here (operational between December and March) or enjoy a pleasant stroll.

BASILIQUE NOTRE DAME DE FOURVIÈRE

Perched on a hill offering stunning city views from its terrace, this majestic 19th-century French monument is lined with magnificent mosaics. Do experience the rooftop tour that ends on the stone-sculpted roof for a complete feel of the basilica.

ROSETTE DE LYON

The city's staple, this is among the most famous local delicacies of Lyon. It is a large and dry pork sausage, which is usually blended with peppercorns, sea salt and garlic. It is best had sliced along with baguette (bread) and cheese.

Food

COQ AU VIN

This hearty and traditional French meal is prepared with braised chicken with mushrooms, garlic and lardons. The highlight of the dish is its gravy that is prepared with wine. This dish has different variations.

Shopping

PRESQU'ILE DISTRICT

Lyon's central district stretching between the Rhône and Saône rivers, it is home to the Rue de la République, the city's main shopping street. For luxury boutiques, head to Rue du Président Édouard Herriot.

LA CROIX ROUSSE

The Croix Rousse neighbourhood is famous for its silk industry. Buy crafts, silk-ware and fabrics and enjoy the enigmatic vibe. Do not forget to check out some food stalls here.

Connecting India with our hearts!

Ravi Sharma,
Director - IndiGoReach.

IndiGoReach is the CSR arm of IndiGo, and our interventions focus on sustainable development by reaching out to communities in small towns and villages of India. This is also a testament to our vision of connecting India by IndiGo. Our initiatives are focused on Children and Education, Women Empowerment, Environment and Heritage.

We are proud, yet humbled to have reached out to more than 1,15,300 individuals across the country last year. This includes about 45,100 children, whom we have supported with quality education. Similarly, the women empowerment programs focus on enhancing the income of more than 54,000 women in some of the remote districts.

Our IndiGoReach initiatives for the environment are committed to reducing the carbon footprint. The programs include promoting the usage of biogas, smokeless chulhas, solar domestic lights, reforestation and conserving water bodies. As part of an Upcycle project, our twilight seat covers and carpets are recycled and upcycled into bags, wallets and other marketable products thus contributing to the income of artisans involved in the project.

Our initiatives on Heritage seek to promote India's culture and heritage. We have undertaken programs to preserve some of the key monuments of India. The 'My City My Heritage' Campaign is an endeavour to raise awareness about the irreplaceable aspects of heritage and culture by organizing Heritage Walks in multiple cities.

To IndiGoReach, we see ourselves as Catalysts of Change and all these impactful changes have been possible due to our partnership with associated organisations, big and small.

Employee volunteering is an intrinsic part of IndiGo's culture and employees are encouraged to volunteer their time, experience, and talent to contribute to the CSR programmes.

Our efforts are all focused on reaching out not just with our planes, but also with our hearts!

You can reach out to us at IndigoReach@indigo.in.
